"Resolved—Whereas many farmer boys have been taken from the farm where their services are necessary for the production of normal crops and are now in training and, whereas in many cases it is impossible to hire help that can do their work, resolved that the United States government be requested in the interests of food production to detail these boys back to the farm for the coming season."

"Resolved—That we hereby express our hearty approval of the action of the mayor and the police department of the city of Ann Arbor in raiding a cock fight recently and securing the participants therein and that if found guilty, the two county officers implicated be asked to resign."

These were resolutions passed at the meeting of farmers of Washtenaw county in Ann Arbor and nearby to Secy. Baker, Pres. Wilson and Gov. Sleeper Saturday. The dining room of the Y. M. C. A. was crowded for the banquet served at noon to nearly three hundred farmers. The banquet was served at noon by members of the Ann Arbor grange.

Earl N. Martin directed the program that followed. A. L. DeGreene of the Normal college gave three readings.

Miss Jennie Buell of Ann Arbor, state grange secretary, brought out helpful suggestions regarding the food conservation drive. She stressed the fact that before the close of another season the nation would find American women not only conserving food, but taking a very active and essential part in producing food. A bright spot Miss Buell has been able to discern among the war clouds of suffering and sorrow is the great lesson in conservation that is being learned.

E. E. Calkins, representing the government emphasized the importance of purchasing thrift stamps and declared that it is not the desire of the government that anyone purchase a large number so much as it is that all citizens buy some, no matter how few.

Mrs. R. Rose Racey of Ann Arbor discussed registration of women for war work and the importance of the prompt response of all for the service that they may be prepared to render.

County School Commissioner Esery outlined the benefits of a county corn contest and intimated that there is more need than ever before for a rousing contest next fall.

Prof. Dowrie of the U. of M. pointed out that urban growth has had much to do with diminishing the supply of farm labor and that the city food demand has grown to surpass the supply. The rural credits law, he declared, should go a long way toward aiding the farmer in securing necessary capital to insure successful operation of the farm.

Chas. P. Knight of Scio outlined the aims of the Washtenaw County Livestock Shippers' association and invited an increase in membership.

Prof. Cook of M. A. C. urged better education for boys from the farm as a means to increasing farm yield and stated that all farmers of the county are in line for concerted farm effort. The organization affords opportunity for a great game in which the man, the wife and the children can all enter to marked advantage.

Red Cross and its work was the topic for discussion by Prof. Steere. He told of accomplishments at the Stone school and mentioned the patriotic contribution of a field for Red Cross benefit from the farm of R. C. Campbell.

Camp life and improvements made by the soldiers was pictured in a brief talk by Private Bernard Harkins of Co. A, 328th Machine Gun Battalion, Camp Custer. The battalion is made up of men from Washtenaw and Jackson county. In making their camp boys have laid out about $400. After he had mentioned this fact the farmers decided that the folks back home should help in such an enterprise and a collection was taken accordingly. It total $16.07. The amount was turned over to Harkins to help meet the sort of expense in camp that he mentioned.

H. A. Hodge laid emphasis on the fact that it is imperative that farmers give less attention to the financial side of life and more to increasing the supply of meat and grain.

GERMANS RAID HOSPITAL NEAR AMERICAN LINES

Occupants Are Moved to Rear
Following Explosion of Dozen Bombs

MISS MARK ON ACCOUNT OF SPEED OF MACHINES

Brilliant Moon Causes Officers
To Fear Repetition of The Attack

By J. W. Pegler
With the American Armies in France, Feb. 17.—(Delayed)—The wounded and sick occupants of a field hospital a few kilometers behind the American trenches had been transferred to the rear today as the result of a boche air raid.

A German airplane, flying low in the light of a brilliant quarter moon Friday night, released ten bombs directly over the hospital. Surgeons standing in the yard saw trails of streaking toward the earth like red sparks from the burning bomb fuses rockets.

The airplane's velocity caused the bombs to miss the flimsy, wooden hospital building. They struck in a nearby field, making enormous holes. Fragments smashed the windows of the operating room.

I was visiting some soldier friends a short distance from the hospital when the raid occurred. The wooden hut in which we were sitting seemed to lift from the earth.

A little Carolina kid was picking a banjo and singing in a nasal whine: "My mother's dead in a lonely grave, My father's run away, My sister's married a gambling man, And I have gone astray."

The explosions knocked down the candles in the hut. The captain sprang up and lit them. The kid stopped singing momentarily, then asked:

"Captain, hadn't I better keep on singing?"

The captain laughed and replied: "Sure boy, shake it up."

The kid took up the song where he left off, with the sound of the airplane motor and machine guns' rattle-tat-tat overhead and bombs crashing in the field nearby.

This morning I visited the hospital, where a young officer who had not yet been transferred to safety showed me the ugly, jagged fragment of a bomb which struck a door two feet from his bed.

He told how he lay helpless in bed, gazing at the sky through a window and saw the livid "tracer" bullets from the airplane's machine guns fired toward the hospital. He heard bombs whistle earthward like the roar of shells under the air.

"I've been under fire in the trenches," he said. "But I never felt last night's sensation before—hearing the bombs directly overhead, waiting for them to drop, wondering whether they'd hit directly on the roof. One fellow—at up in bed and yelled: 'Drop it! Go on, drop it! Drop it!'"

An even more brilliant moon caused the officers to fear a repetition of the raid and resulted in the evacuation of the hospital.

GEER FUNERAL TO BE TUESDAY

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Geer who died Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Melvin Lewis at the age of 87 years, will be held Tuesday. Service will be held at the Lewis home at 10 o'clock in the morning and a second service will be at the Watson Geer farm in Superior township at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Interment will be in the Pray cemetery in Superior township.

Mrs. Geer has been a lifelong resident of this vicinity. Two weeks ago she fell, breaking her hip, and death is attributed to that injury.

DEATH TAKES MRS. BABCOCK

Mrs. Sarah Babcock, aged 58 years, a well known and highly respected resident, died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur F. Wall in Denton.

One sister, Mrs. Carrie Colby and two brothers, Wm. Smith and Milford Smith, survive.

Her husband who died several years ago, was a Civil war veteran.

SUPT. ARBAUGH TO HEAD LOCAL RED CROSS WORK

Chairman D. L. Quirk Advises
Directors of Plans Forcing Resignation

MEETINGS TO BE HELD EACH MONTH

Six New Members of Board of Directors Added at Meeting Held Sunday

At a meeting of the Red Cross held Sunday Supt. W. B. Arbaugh of the city schools, was made chairman of the Ypsilanti Red Cross to succeed D. L. Quirk, Jr., who is forced to resign his connections here on account of foreign work which he has accepted. Mr. Quirk expects to leave Ypsilanti the latter part of this week.

Although his resignation was very informal a general expression of regret was voiced by members of the board present. At the same time the directors realize their good fortune in having a man so competent as Supt. Arbaugh to take up the work.

Six new members were voted into the board, Mrs. Guy Davis, Prof. Erickson, John P. Kirk, D. B. South, H. E. Van de Walker and F. H. Nissly.

Meetings will be held until further plans are made, on the second Sunday of each month in the Red Cross rooms. The meeting Sunday was held at the First National bank owing to the fact that the Red Cross rooms were not sufficiently heated at that hour.

To Aid Flood Sufferers

The board expressed a desire at the meeting Sunday to aid the Home Association in taking care of the residents on Water street who have been driven from their homes on account of high water. Until the water recedes, the loss cannot be estimated but there is no question but that whatever loss there is will be keenly felt and that the assistance of the Red Cross and the Home Association will be greatly appreciated.

The Home Association is grateful for the splendid response that is being made to their request for special funds. Money is being left at the Kilian Drug Store on the east side of the river and at the Clarke Furniture store, Michigan avenue.

YPSILANTI BOYS PROFIT BY TRAINING IN SOUTHERN CAMP

Ordnance Detachment, Camp Joseph E. Johnson, Jacksonville, Fla.

Sunday, February 10.

Hubbard and I were transferred down here from Watertown last week. Are here for duty, and it looks as if there would be enough of that to keep us busy most of the time. Our function is that of helping twenty other ordnance fellows receive and issue such ordnance material as is required by the quartermasters in training here. There are 22,000 of these quartermasters, and hundreds arrive and leave daily, so the work is appreciable. Saturday afternoon, we had our first taste of emergency work, and toiled under a hot sun unloading a couple of cars of small arms ammunition and moving it to the storehouse with motor trucks.

The bunch who came here with us—three others beside Hub and I—are all from Michigan, one being from Calumet, one from Hillsdale, and the third from Detroit. We are the last of the Michigan bunch to leave the arsenal, and are congratulating ourselves on the detail we drew, for the rest of our class are scattered over such places as Newport News and Hoboken, where they rustle pigiron with a gang of Negroes, Washington, where they answer telephones and hate life in general; and the various cantonments, where discipline is very strict, according to those who have written. As for Camp Johnson, it is about the finest sort of place you can imagine—and the ordnance detachment are getting a little the best of food, hours, and liberty. We eat with the officers and cooks, and the latter manage to see that the tables are always well supplied with clean food, which is something new to us. There is no kitchen police duty for us, though the QM's have to stand this, no more drill, and to top it off, our captain is the sort of man who does all he can to advance those under him, and incidentally see that they have the best they're entitled to all along. So Hub and I have something to be thankful for, beside the fact that we have managed to stick together pretty

PERSHING CALLS ON MEN IN THE FRONT LINES

Trenches Are Included In General
Inspection of the American Forces

PATROL WORK IS MORE EFFECTIVE

Men at Rear Appear Anxious To Take Their Turn in the Trenches

By Fred S. Ferguson
With the American Armies in France, Feb. 17.—(Delayed)—General Pershing visited the first line trenches today, as part of a general inspection of the American forces holding this sector. He found the men in excellent condition and spirits. Their patrol work he ascertained, is becoming rapidly more effective, while the men in the rear are anxious to take their turn in the trenches.

Pershing picked his way through the wet, soggy trenches and emerged with the same spotlessness that made him the wonder of his men in Mexico, where it was said he could go into the dustiest places without seeming to get dusty.

Where other officers slipped and floundered in the mud, Pershing stepped gingerly along, picking his way with sure-footedness and scarcely soiling his boots.

Pershing asked a cook how the food was.

"All right," the cook replied, "except we'd like a little more variety."

"What did you have for supper?"

"Nothing but roast beef, mashed potatoes, bread and butter and coffee."

Returning from the trenches, Pershing visited various headquarters.

The boches last night did their first patrolling in six nights. American patrols reported German soldiers making repairs on their wires and trenches, but there were no encounters. There was only nominal artillery firing.

The weather continues clear and cold.

Miss Katherine Cain returned to Detroit Sunday after a week's vacation spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cain.

YPSILANTI BOYS PROFIT BY TRAINING IN SOUTHERN CAMP

ty well ever since leaving Ypsilanti. Camp Johnson is not yet all that it will be. Pavement is still going on in many sections, and construction gangs are pushing up barracks, but there are already enough to make a very large place of it. All the barracks are of two-story construction, unlike those in cantonments. They occupy correspondingly less space.

There are several Y huts scattered over the place, and branch laundries and canteens and military equipment shops. Connection with Jacksonville twelve miles away, is affected by boat on the St. James River, railway from the town of Yukon, not far off, and bus or auto from the camp, but at best is an expensive proposition, so that the men do not take advantage of all their liberty, by any means. They are entitled to every evening, Saturday afternoon and Sunday, but the week-end time is generally the only portion taken. The river trip, which we took this morning, is pretty good. The river is two miles wide at camp, and the only other boats on it at this point are lumber barges in tow, or a few pleasure boats. While waiting for the boat we watched some QM's fishing for crabs, using strings with pieces of fish on the ends. They haul them out in large numbers, and have them cooked downtown somewhere.

This afternoon we visited the alligator and ostrich farm, across the river from the city. The latter is more or less of a frost, and contains only a few ostriches, but the alligators are interesting, and there are several thousand of them.

The public is not the warm and friendly body that we found in Boston, and I think this talk we've heard about southern hospitality, "the good old Southern hospitality," I think they call it, is all bunk, with a capital B. The atmosphere is entirely different, and the bunch who have been here a while are pretty sore at the place, but we couldn't see today that there was any actual hostility. After we've spent our money, there is just indifference, whereas in Massachusetts we were clever if we could manage to get away from a dinner en-

HOLDING WEST FRONT MEANS WAR IS WON

MARY MASTERS NEEDHAM MAY LECTURE HERE

FORMER INSTRUCTOR IN NORMAL COLLEGE TELLS OF DEVASTATION OF FRENCH TOWNS

Dean Marion B. White and Miss Marna R. Osband attended the reception to the University senior girls given by Ann Arbor branch, Association of Collegiate Alumnae, Saturday at the home of Mrs. Henry C. Adams. Dr. Mary Thompson Stevens of Detroit, national sectional vice president, gave a short address. The association has raised its pledge for maintaining the Michigan rooms at the American University Union in Paris and will next take up the work of civilian reconstruction in the devastated French villages.

It is expected that Mrs. Mary Master Needham, who, since the death of her husband, Henry Beach Needham, in an aeroplane accident early in the war, has given herself first to hospital work at Neuilly and lately to this reconstruction work, will give an illustrated lecture soon in Ann Arbor on this work.

Dean White hopes that Mrs. Needham, who was formerly instructor in the English department of the Normal College, will find time to speak at the college on the same day that she speaks at Ann Arbor.

ALL WOMEN URGED TO ATTEND ANN ARBOR MEETINGS

Women representing all of the organizations of the city are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing the leaders in the work of registration of women for patriotic service who will be present at the Washtenaw conference of the Women's Council for National Defense which will be held at Ann Arbor Tuesday and Wednesday.

The day sessions open at 10:30 and 2:00 p. m. and a session Tuesday evening will be given over to open discussion which cannot but prove most interesting.

Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Kalamazoo, who is at the head of the Michigan organization will tell of the origin of the movement, and the details of organization; Mrs. F. B. Perkins, of Ann Arbor, will tell of the coming registration in Michigan and Mrs. Kate Wood Ray, who assisted in the conduct of the registration in Illinois, will tell of their campaign.

Mrs. Crane will also discuss the survey of local community needs which will precede the registration in April.

These meetings will be held in Barbour gymnasium in Ann Arbor and those attending may obtain lunches in the cafeteria in the building. All meetings are announced according to Eastern Standard time.

The local school of instruction which is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon has been given over on account of the Ann Arbor meeting but the Thursday school, which is held at 7 p. m. at the high school, will be held as usual.

MRS. VAN BUREN FUNERAL TODAY

Death Friday evening summoned Mrs. Martin Van Buren at the residence on Hawkins street. Mrs. Van Buren had been ill only a few hours and her death was a shock to her many friends here. She was 74 years old.

Besides Mr. Van Buren, four daughters and one son are living.

Funeral services were this afternoon at two o'clock at the residence on Hawkins street. The body was taken to Highland cemetery for interment.

He was not seriously injured, but considerably bruised and somewhat upset mentally for a time.

BELIEVES ALLIED PEACE IS POSSIBLE THIS YEAR

Declares Germans Haven't a Chance in a Thousand, Austria
Practically Out

By Wm. Philip Simms
(Copyright 1918 by United Press)
Berne, Switzerland, Feb. 17.—(Delayed)—Hold on the west front and the war is won.

There is the whole story of my Swiss impressions.

I don't mean that peace will follow within 24 hours of Hindenburg's fiasco. But I certainly believe an allied peace is possible this year.

This conclusion is unshaky. It was reached by a process tantamount to mathematical computation.

From personal observation I know what the French punch is like, and what British bulldogism is; while from my study here I believe I have gained a fair idea of what Germany can do. From this knowledge I don't believe the Germans have the proverbial chance in a thousand, despite Hindenburg's strategy and Ludendorff's tactics.

Hindenburg can expect little or no aid from Austria. Emperor Carl's position is too wobbly to warrant sending Austrians, Hungarians, Czechs, etc., to their slaughter on the west front.

The Prussians may browbeat them into activity against Italy simultaneously with a German offensive against France, but this appears about all.

Czorin said in December that as Germany is fighting for Trieste, Austria might side by side with Germans on frontiers other than Austrian.

Ludendorff has practically reorganized the German army, which probably will comprise two hundred divisions (2,400,000 to 3,000,000 men) when the offensive starts—if it starts. Despite the armistice agreement, the cream of the divisions from the Russian front, have been drafted to the west. The older troops on the west front have been replaced by storm troops. Austria will aid with artillery and guns captured in Italy and elsewhere.

The Germans are boasting a horrible new gas. They brag that this gas has already been tried out in Italy and Cambrai. But if the information which I have is true, the allies have no need to worry much.

Germany is putting up its biggest bluff. Dying of rot, she is trying to scare the allies by making faces. Doubtless, she has one punch left, after which—nothing.

The masses are thoroughly war-weary. The election at Bautzen is a proof of this. Bautzen, an agrarian center, always was violently anti-German and adamant against Socialism. Before the recent election the war party, certain of the result, proclaimed the outcome would show the extent to which the people were backing the Kaiser.

A Socialist was elected by a large majority, throwing the militarists into consternation. Through the latter's own demands the election cry was "for or against reconciliation and peace."

However, as George Archibald, American jockey just out of Austria, said: "Don't let this German peace talk fool you too much. Just give them a winning streak and they'll insist on annexing New York and Chicago."

"On the other hand, if they pull an offensive, just give 'em another dose of that Verdun stuff and they'll be eating out of your hand."

MELVIN SYLER HIT BY AN INTERURBAN CAR

Melvin Syler, Normal College student, had a narrow escape when he attempted to cross the D. J. & C. track on Cross street Saturday night ahead of a limited car. A local had just passed and he failed to see the second car approaching as he started across the track. By some fortune he was able to hold himself from being dragged under the wheels till the car was stopped.

He was not seriously injured, but considerably bruised and somewhat upset mentally for a time.

ICE BLOCKADE PROVES STUBBORN PROBLEM

Workmen labored all day Sunday in an effort to dislodge the ice from the river which backed up the flood water on Water street, flooding about a dozen families from their homes.

How to get more wear from fine waists and lingerie

IN these days of war prices, it's a necessary, yet simple, economy to make dainty fabrics wear longer. You couldn't replace your fine clothes today at anything like the prices you've paid for them.

All clothes—and especially fine fabrics—wear much longer when washed with Fels-Naptha. Because Fels-Naptha makes unnecessary the use of boiling water—so destructive to delicate fabrics.

More, it almost entirely does away with the rubbing that does more to wear out clothes than actual wear on the street.

GRANGERS HAVE SHORT SESSION AT THE TEMPLE

Owing to the fact that a number of Ypsilanti Grangers attended the farmers' meeting in Ann Arbor Saturday the session at the Masonic Temple was not so well attended as usual and the program was accordingly brief. Questions announced for the meeting were briefly discussed and roll call was answered with recommendations for saving to meet county needs.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Joseph Warner.

ANNUAL PARTY FOR WHITE OWL CLUB

The annual social event of the White Owl club of 934 Ellis street, a Normal college organized house club, was held Saturday evening at St. John's club house and was a very elaborate and pretty affair.

The decorations were in red hearts, and white owls, hand-painted. The refreshments carried out the valentine idea and the color scheme and consisted of delicious ice cream and cake. Witmore's orchestra played for dancing.

The program were cleverly made heart-shaped booklets and were also hand-decorated.

The out-of-the-city guests were: Miss Carrie Adelle Newton of Denton, Miss Esther Muir of Grand Rapids, and Myron Snyder and Moses Lansky of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holmes chaperoned.

Even North Exposure Rooms Can Be Kept Warm

It isn't any trick to keep all the rooms in the house warm if your home has Morgan Cold Weather Protection. Even those north exposure rooms which never would heat, now become just as comfortable as any room in the house even on the coldest of days.

Morgan Cold Weather PROTECTION

makes heat-retaining units or veritable air cells out of your windows and doors and furnishes better resistance against the outside cold than is offered by a solid wall. This dead-air space is a barrier to the outside cold and is a retainer for the inside heat.

Just think of the worry and extra work escaped in being able to heat your whole house all the time, and then remember that Morgan Cold Weather Protection pays for itself in the saving on coal bills. Our new booklet "Cold Weather Protection" tells all about this new system. Get your copy today. You'll be under no obligations to buy.

How This Fine Family of Seven Children Keeps Healthy

Mother Depends on Father John's Medicine
—For Colds, Coughs and Body Building
 No Alcohol or Dangerous Drugs

"For the last four years whenever any of our seven children have had colds, we gave them Father John's Medicine," writes Klaus Zandstra of Whitinsville, Mass. "We used it for all of the children and they have been greatly benefited by taking Father John's Medicine for colds and body-building. Crowded with nourishment and warmth-giving, strength-building elements, Father John's Medicine is also guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs, and is, therefore, a safe reliable family medicine."

PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, the bowels and the liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

BOASTS OF VISITORS FAIL TO MATERIALIZE WHEN IT COMES TO PICKING OFF THE PINS

Funny, ain't it, how some guys get all wrapped up in their home town, it's good stuff all right, mixed with a little judgment, but when you start spreadin' ink all over a perfectly good sheet of paper, usin' more space than a fire sale, to bunk the confidin' public into the belief that they have the greatest bowling team in the county runnin' round wild like, it's time some body woke 'em up.

O' course they're good guys, that Ann Arbor bunch, if they'd stay on the ground, but this tryin' to break high altitude records in every line of sport is no good, if you can't get away with it. Some how, just when they've made themselves believe they're way out of sight, they want to show off Ypsilanti.

Now we ain't sayin' nothin' down here, just settin' back, kinda waitin', when, sure 'nough they run true to form and wanta bowl us for the county championship. We agree among ourselves that it's a shame to pick on anything so young and tender, but they can't see trouble when it's walkin' all over 'em, so just to accommodate 'em we give 'em a chance to show off.

This terrible beatin' we're to get is rolled one series here and one in Ann Arbor. We took the first match away from 'em by about a couple hundred or more on our own alleys, and then to prevent their droppin' the whole distance at once, let 'em beat us FIVE PINS on their alleys. Well, say, I bet that sportin' editor ain't slept since. He used a column tellin' how they quit five pins ahead, and 'nother one fram'in' alibis that would be worth millions to Kaiser Bill when he has to begin explainin' to the people why he lost the war. That kinda stirred our feelin's some, but as some of us have relatives livin' in Ann Arbor, and not wantin' any family troubles, we only beat 'em 284 pins when they came down Saturday night.

When we go up there Friday evenin' we ain't aimin' to hurt 'em much, not likin' jail life with spring just comin' on after a hard winter, but take it from us we're comin' home county 'hampions.

We're goin' to show you the box score of this one; we could a done better, but what's the use kickin' a lot a guys when they've had a fall like that.

ASK RELEASE OF SOLDIERS TO AID IN FARM WORK

At the request of the chairman L. D. Carr read the standardized constitution for farm bureaus, which was adopted. Its object is to further cooperation with M. A. C. and the national bureau, with an aim to making farm work more profitable and farm life more attractive.

Officers Are Elected

The following were elected for the coming year: President, Earl N. Martin, Ann Arbor; first vice president, R. J. Bird, Ypsilanti; second vice president, Theodore Josenhans, Milan; secretary, W. E. Underdown; Treasurer, O. C. Burkhart, Chelsea.

Ypsilanti residents who were present for the banquet were B. D. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Glasson, Mrs. D. V. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Willets Derbyshire, Mrs. N. C. Carpenter, Chas. Foster, R. J. Bird, Ennis Twist, Fred Parsons, George Gill, Jr., Prof. George R. Cain, James Court, W. H. Sweet, George Preston, Miss Ida Thumm, Miss Letha Leverett. Other prominent farmers there were Cone Sperry, George Wing, W. E. Underdown, Theodore Josenhans, Philip Broesmale, George English, Chas. Knight, Carl Wiedman, C. X. Thomas, Robert Campbell, C. O. Deake, Frank Leason, James Fennell, E. J. Hutzel, W. H. Smith, Oscar McDougall, George Chalmers.

Business Session in Morning

The business session of the day was held in the morning a short time before the banquet. Joseph Glasson, George McCalla, W. E. Underdown, H. A. Hodge, L. D. Carr, Chas. Foster, Chas. Thompson and Earl Martin were appointed a committee to revise and amend the constitution to meet local needs.

The adoption of a standardized constitution is necessary to comply with the Smith-Lever bill and so conform to requirements controlling the appropriation for the county agent.

Miss Adelaide Seeger of Detroit spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Charles Seeger.

He cashed a sight draft, assuring the bank that his father, who is claimed to be in Georgia, would honor it. The draft was returned.

I wish you would send the Press here now, to the address above, and also let me know if you hear of any local fellows down here. I imagine there must be some, but the vastness of the camp makes it an impossibility to look anyone up without stronger basis for thinking he's here than mere imagination.

Last night was the first time I had touched a typewriter since leaving Ypsilanti,—this is one of the unusual privileges down here, and it is surely appreciated. I would like to be back there, and at times it looks as if the thing would be over on short notice. But we are having a great time, seeing America first, and it is interesting to conjecture where the next jump will be. Some of the Water-town crowd were assigned to temporary positions in Detroit plants working on government contracts, but we didn't happen to draw those assignments, and I guess are nearer the interesting places than if we had.

Sincerely,
NAT HOPKINS.

DUTCH MINISTER ROBBED, KALEDIN TAKES OWN LIFE

London, Feb. 18.—The Dutch minister to Russia was robbed and stripped of his clothing on the palace quay according to Petrograd dispatches received today by the London Mail.

Dispatches to the Mail also declared the report that General Kaledin, hetman of the Don Cossacks, who is in revolt against the bolsheviks, had committed suicide, was "probably correct."

MARINE STRIKERS RESUME WORK IN SHIPYARDS TODAY

New York, Feb. 18.—Striking marine carpenters in the shipyards in New York and vicinity to the number of six thousand will be back in their places by noon today, according to John Stuart, in charge of the local offices of the Marine Woodworkers' Union.

All night the executives of the union were at work notifying the striking carpenters to go back to the shipyards. President William L. Hutchinson, commenting on the order to the men to return to work said:

"The situation has been entirely changed by the telegram from the president. The workmen who have been striking for a hearing of their grievances now feel sure that they will get it."

GERMANY OPENS WAY FOR BREAK WITH AUSTRIA

London, Feb. 18.—Germany's declaration against the bolsheviks has caused the most serious schism between Germany and Austro-Hungary, the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph wired today.

Mrs. Arthur Marks is confined to her bed because of illness.
